

Alexey Egorov is currently assistant of «Applied mathematics» Department and «Chemoinformatics and molecular modeling» laboratory of National Research Nuclear University MEPhI. In 2014 he graduated from National Research Nuclear University “Cybernetics” Department. His research interests are in computer vision and applied machine learning applications in chemoinformatics. He has authored about 20 scientific papers in computer vision (face detection, action recognition, deepfake detection).

Scopus Profile: <https://www.scopus.com/authid/detail.uri?authorId=56498538700>