

Victor Luzhkov graduated from the Moscow Institute of Physics and Technology where he had received his M.Sc. and Ph.D. in Biophysics. He stayed as a visiting scientist at several universities in USA, Germany and Sweden. Currently, he is a Principal Scientist and head of the group of 'Molecular Modeling of Biochemical Processes' in the Federal Research Center of Problems of Chemical Physics and Medicinal Chemistry RAS in Chernogolovka, Moscow region. His interests are in Computational and Theoretical Biochemistry and Computer-Aided Drug Design.