

Humayun Wali

Department of Chemical Engineering
University of Engineering and Technology, Lahore
Pakistan

hwali@uet.edu.pk

I have been teaching different subjects and supervising laboratories in the chemical engineering department for about nineteen years. Before this, I worked for about four years at an ammonia-urea fertilizer processing plant as a process and operations engineer.

My research interests are varied and generally I am interested in thermodynamics, chemical product synthesis, and developments in different scientific theories.